The purpose of this STSM is to examine the manuscript papers of the English Churches in the Netherlands, using certain key ministers as pilot case studies to begin to gather together a catalogue or census of the correspondence of the English churches abroad and stranger churches in England. The correspondence archives of five English ministers in Holland have been selected: Hugh Goodyear (Leiden), John Paget (Amsterdam), William Ames (Leeuwarden), Samuel Bamford (The Hague), and Hugh Peter (Rotterdam). Together, these intersecting pilot case studies will help to generate a blueprint of the correspondence networks of the foreign or stranger churches across Europe in the late sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.
